FOOD RECOVERY

Resource Guide 2024

Food is an integral part of our daily lives. Unfortunately, studies consistently find that a significant portion of our nation's children and elderly, as well as households where one or more adults work, are food insecure.

The Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (FDACS) is continually working to combat hunger by forming partnerships with Florida farmers, retailers, non-profit organizations and food relief agencies to find new ways to provide a dependable food supply to those in need. The Florida Legislature's support and commitment to the Food Recovery Program Act has assisted in the success of this program. This legislative mandate helps prospective donors connect with bona fide charitable organizations to provide food to low-income families. The Food Recovery Program Act reduces food waste in our state by moving slightly blemished or imperfect food into the hands of people that need it the most.

This guide lists organizations that have indicated to FDACS their interest to participate in the Food Recovery Program and the types of foods they have the capability to recover. FDACS does not approve or endorse specific organizations. However, whether you want to donate food or refer a family in need, this resource is a reference guide to point you in the right direction. Your participation and commitment is appreciated by all involved and all in need.

Through our joint efforts, we can help provide a secure food supply and reduce hunger in Florida.

What is the Florida Food Recovery Program?

Florida's Food Recovery Program is a coordinated effort involving FDACS, Florida farmers, wholesalers, retailers, community action agencies, and other food relief agencies. Food recovery helps to supplement federal food assistance programs by making better use of a food source that already exists.

The program is committed to reducing food insecurity in Florida.

THE DEPARTMENT IS WORKING TO:

- › Get surplus or unmarketable food to those in need;
- › Motivate stakeholders to take action; and
- › Coordinate the transportation of food by establishing a strong infrastructure to fulfill the program's mission.

Why is the program needed?

In 2023, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) reported that 47.4 million people lived in food-insecure households, with 7.2 million of them being children. This data showed that in 2023, 13.5% of U.S. households were food insecure. In Florida, about 12% of households were food insecure. Food-insecure households (those with low and very low food security) reported that at some time during the year they were uncertain of having, or were unable to acquire, adequate food to meet their basic needs.

Each year approximately 63 million tons of the available food supply from farms, retail, and consumers goes uneaten. The Food Recovery Program works to reduce food waste while also reducing food insecurity.

Chronic hunger and malnutrition take a heavy toll on children's lives, including days missed from school, inattention in class, stunted growth, and frequent illness.

The four most common methods of food recovery are:

1. Field Gleaning

The collection of crops from farmers' fields that have been harvested or that are on fields where it is not economically profitable to harvest.

2. Perishable Food Rescue or Salvage

The collection of perishable produce from wholesale and retail sources.

3. Food Rescue

The collection of prepared foods from the food service and retail industries.

4. Nonperishable Food Collection

The collection of processed foods with long shelf lives.

How can you help?

There are various ways to help reduce food insecurity in your community.

FOOD SERVICE PROFESSIONALS

- Organize a food drive and donate food to a local food bank or pantry.
- Donate excess prepared food from restaurants, school cafeterias, or catered events.
- Assist organizations in training their volunteers in safe food handling practices.

NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

- Work independently or with existing organizations to assist food recovery efforts.
- Support or develop a community or regional coalition against hunger.
- Develop a community financial fund to fight hunger.
- Plan tours of food recovery facilities or arrange for knowledgeable speakers to increase community awareness of hunger and poverty problems, and what people are doing to address them.

YOUTH SERVICE GROUPS AND VOLUNTEER ORGANIZATIONS

- Partner with existing organizations to assist food recovery efforts.
- Organize essay, oratorical, or art contests for school children to focus on hunger and its consequences.
- Sponsor a community garden that gives a portion of the harvest to food banks, soup kitchens, and other food recovery programs.
- Supply gardening tools and harvesting equipment for local gardening and gleaning efforts.

INDIVIDUAL CITIZENS

- Volunteer at the food recovery program closest to you.
- Attend food safety training sessions so you are better prepared to volunteer in a soup kitchen or shelter.
- Educate organizations you belong to or businesses you work with about food recovery programs.
- Join or form a community walk/run to benefit a food recovery program.

BUSINESSES AND CORPORATIONS

- Encourage, recognize, and reward employees and other individuals for volunteer service in the community.
- Increase employee awareness of local hunger and provide training to make employees more useful volunteers.
- Sponsor radio and television air time for community organizations that address hunger.
- Donate excess prepared and processed food from the employee cafeteria or from special events to local food recovery programs.
- Donate transportation, maintenance work, or computer service.
- Prepare legal information on donor considerations such as “Good Samaritan” laws and food safety and quality.

WHAT LAWS HELP PROTECT DONORS?

The Emerson Good Samaritan Food Donation Act, Public Law 104-210, provides uniform national protection to those that act in good faith to donate, recover, and distribute excess food. Likewise, Florida has enacted legislation that specifically addresses the liability for canned or perishable food distributed free of charge. Pursuant to s. 768.136(2) & (3), Florida Statutes:

(2) “A good faith donor or gleaner of any canned or perishable food, apparently fit for human consumption, to a bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization for free distribution shall not be subject to criminal penalty or civil damages arising from the condition of the food, unless an injury is caused by the gross negligence, recklessness, or intentional misconduct of the donor or gleaner.”

(3) “A bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization, or any representative or volunteer acting on behalf of such organization or an uncompensated person acting in a philanthropic manner providing services similar to those of such an organization, which accepts, collects, transports, or distributes any canned or perishable food, apparently fit for human consumption, from a good faith donor or gleaner for free distribution shall not be subject to criminal penalty or civil damages arising from the condition of the food, unless an injury is caused by the gross negligence, recklessness, or intentional misconduct of an agent of the charitable or nonprofit organization.”

HOW ARE DONATED FOODS DISTRIBUTED TO THOSE IN NEED?

- › Food banks provide food to other organizations like food pantries, soup kitchens, hunger relief centers, or other food or feeding centers. Food banks do not typically distribute food directly to individuals.
- › Food pantries distribute food to low-income and unemployed households to take home.
- › Soup kitchens provide meals to the needy and the homeless on a regular basis.

In addition to perishable and non-perishable commercial foods donated by retailers, manufacturers, food service establishments, and other organizations, many of the agencies listed in this booklet distribute USDA foods made available through The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP). Under TEFAP, USDA foods are distributed to organizations (i.e., soup kitchens) in the state that use them in congregate feeding facilities for the needy, including the homeless, and to organizations (i.e., food pantries) that provide them to eligible households for home consumption.

To be eligible to receive food through TEFAP, households must meet established income requirements or participate in other government programs such as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, Supplemental Security Income, or Medicaid.

There are many worthwhile organizations not included in this booklet that provide food assistance directly to the needy. To find the location of a food pantry or soup kitchen in your area, you may contact the local food bank(s) listed by county in this guide.
